TEACHING TYPING SKILLS SINCE 1995

As an 'inclusive' company, our aim is to supply products that are suitable for all. To fulfil this, as from July 2019, all our download files will include our unique preference screen that minimises visual disturbances.

Home edition - Holiday time again! Use this valuable time of year preparing your kids (and yourself) for the year ahead by learning a 'life skill'. Our typing course is fun, simple to use, breaks down into modules and is proven. Our Family Edition offers 5 licenses for the price of 3 and at such a cost effective price, it makes sense.

All our software offers both UK and US/ N.American options (spoken instruction, vocabulary and keyboards) and is available either online via our servers or as a download.

Access KAZ via your laptop, desktop or even your tablet*!

*We always recommend using a keypad or a docking station with tablets but most importantly always practise good posture!

Schools & FE /HE - We are proud to announce that we are now full members of BESA. Membership of BESA is the gold standard for all British education suppliers and assures all users that the holder is a trusted supplier.

We believe in today's world of technology, all students should be taught to type. Our neurodiverse edition caters for all, allowing the whole class can learn together.

Business - KAZ Business edition is proven to increase the efficiency and productivity of staff. A fundamental yet essential skill, often overlooked in training. We are one of the few courses that can actually prove a Return on Investment (ROI) - see the proof - FREE ROI calculator on our website. Take a free typing test, on the main page of our website, insert the figures and see the results for yourself. Teach and equip your staff with the essentials and build on their skill set. Some clients are offering their staff our new City & Guilds edition as an incentive to learn, as they realise just how much of a difference it can make to their business, staffing and bottom line. It's one of the cheapest courses on the marketplace and one that really does make a huge difference. Available in SCORM for LMS or online, hosted on our servers.
